ShowBloom[®]

with the BGY advantage

ShowBloom supplement for beef, dairy, swine, lambs, sheep, and goats

ShowBloom is formulated on F.L. Emmert's proprietary brewer's yeast. Brewer's yeast - nature's near-perfect food - contains essential amino acids, 14 minerals, and 17 vitamins. It is one of the best natural sources of the B complex vitamins: thiamin, riboflavin, niacin, B6, pantothenic acid, biotin, and folic acid. It is also high in minerals, including chromium, zinc, iron, phosphorus, and selenium. It contains beta-glucans and ribonucleic acid (RNA), which improve and aid digestion. Brewer's yeast is a source of high-quality digestible protein and is used worldwide to improve palatability, digestibility, muscle development, skin and hair coat, hoof condition, and overall animal health and well-being. We balance our high-quality ShowBloom supplement with additional essential vitamins to help ensure animals reach their full genetic potential.

Benefits:

Encourages consistent feed intake, utilization, and fiber digestion

- Increases ration palatability to increase intake
- Improves intake during times of stress
- Improves feed efficiency and digestion, better average gains, and reduced overall feed cost
- Improves gut health and function resulting in faster growth

Aids in muscle development and firmness
